In one of the prettiest exhibitions here for many weeks, the Richmonders took a fall out of the Browns at Broad Street Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2. Crawford was the puzzle, and by keeping his hits scattered he kept the champions until the last. But it was Crawford's corking three-sacker in the first inning that put the paralytic feeling into the spines of the champions. It just happened that there were three runners located on the bases when the southpaw twirler got against one of Winston's benders and drove it to the free country. The runners had to get off the bags, for Crawford was appropriating everything in sight.

Barton Heights sneaked up on the Browns by chastising the team from Manchester. And this was a good game of ball for seven innings. Leake, the mysterious curveballer for the Manchesters, was practically put out of commission in the seventh by a batted ball that did things to his two fingers. Taylor sent a line drive to the box artist, and Leake had a finger jammed up in stopping the sphere. The score was 6 to 1 at the end of the game in favor of the boys from across the divide. Until the seventh inning it was one to one.

Brooks was the ice cream for the Highlanders. John Anthony found him for two sacks, and Albert Anthony is recorded with a hit that some think he should have. The ball was sent down towards first and the batter failed to get it. The question was whether to give Tritton an error or Albert a hit, and the latter decision was reached. But with this one, the column only shows two hits for the nine innings. Brooks has been pitching good ball all the season, but he was never in better trim than yesterday, and with the exception of one inning, he was behind him all day long.

When Leake went out at the opening of the eighth inning, Thirdeasman Edwards went in. Edwards handed them over in a straightforward kind of way. In fact he made one two straight when he hit at bat, and as a result the Phillips connected easily. The ball sailed into deep center. It kept on sailing and before it was again in the diamond Phillips had spiked the rubber. It was the first time this season that a home run has been made on a ball batted inside of the park. The other home runs have gone over the fence.

The First Game.

Richmond went to the bat and Jones, the snappy little third baseman, connected safely. Bauer, the midget, received transportation to first and Knightley went down to the first bag on Winston's error. Crawford swung at the first one and fouled it. He met the next one squarely in the eye and all the bases were cleared. Shaunnessy oozed and Shelton sent one to free country, scoring Crawford. Kenningham and Sent went out.

Again in the third the Richmonders went to bat with the run column at 3. Crawford forced him to move, to second by receiving a complimentary. Shaunnessy went out to first, but Bob moved to third. Shelton biffed a good one again and both runners tallied. This was all the Richmond boys got, but the six runs were a plenty.

In the fifth inning the Browns scored one run and a combination of errors in the sixth inning gave them two more runs. Bowers' hit with a single and Rose duplicated the trick. Sharp and Hogan fanned, and Gruner got a single. The ball went to centerfield and Kenningham failed to stop it. Bowers scored on the fumble. Rose started for the home plate and the ball was returned to Knightley, who let it go by him. But there was nothing more doing, for the run column had closed for the day.

SARATOGA CUP TO SANFORD'S HORSE

Caughnawaga Wins in Very Pretty Race, Defeating Beldame and Cairngorm.

RING WAS VERY HARD HIT

Jimmy Lane First in Beverwick Steeplechase—Stake for Burgomaster.

(By Associated Press.)

SARATOGA, N. Y., August 19.—One of the prettiest distance races ever seen on any track was that for the Saratoga cup, the special feature of to-day's program, which was won by John Sanford's Caughnawaga. Beldame was the first to break and set a fast pace. For a mile and a quarter she was out in front, with Cairngorm running a length away and two or three lengths ahead of Caughnawaga. As they made the last turn into the home stretch, Cairngorm, who was leading by a head, made his error. His advantage was short lived, however, for the other two passed him in a rush, with the Belmont ally ahead. Then Red Fern shook up the old horse, who responded with a will, winning by a length and a half from Beldame, who was two lengths ahead of Cairngorm. The ring was hard hit through the victory of the Sanford horse, who was played down to 6 to 5 from 8 to 5.

SUMMARY.

First race—six furlongs—Brush Up (40 to 1) first, Hump (7 to 1) second, Water Mirror (12 to 1) third. Time, 1:13 1/4.

Second race—the Beverwick steeplechase; half course; about two and a half miles—Jimmy Lane (13 to 1) first, Maiden (5 to 2) second, Jim Newman (3 to 2) third. Time, 6:50 1/2.

Third race—United States Hotel stakes; six furlongs—Burgomaster (3 to 1) first, Pegasus (3 to 5) second, Ormondale (7 to 2) third. Time, 1:13 1/4.

Fourth race—Saratoga cup; mile and three-quarters—Caughnawaga (6 to 5) first, Beldame (8 to 5) second, Cairngorm (8 to 5) third. Time, 2:00 1/4.

Fifth race—one mile—Knight of Rhodes (11 to 5) first, King Rose (7 to 1) second, Irish Wench (10 to 1) third. Time, 1:41.

Sixth race—six furlongs—Yalagah (40 to 1) first, Flip Flap (3 to 5) second, Bridgeman (5 to 2) third. Time, 1:11.

KNOCKED HIM DOWN.

Capt. Sharp, of Browns, Strikes One of Martin's Secretaries.

R. C. Kilmartin, who said he was a private secretary for Senator Thomas S. Martin, was fined $10 in Police Court yesterday morning for fighting on the street. E. L. Sharp, captain of the Browns baseball team, was the man with whom Kilmartin had the difficulty.

The fight occurred about 3:30 yesterday morning on Broad Street, near Ninth. Both men were charged with fighting on the street, and the evidence was that Kilmartin was the aggressor.

Sharp was slashed across the face with a knife, but none of the witnesses could testify as to who did the cutting. Kilmartin denied it, and Mr. Sharp wasn't certain who did the cutting.

Sharp said that Kilmartin approached him and used a vile epithet. He resented the insult with a blow that sent Kilmartin down.

Kilmartin said that he went to Petersburg Friday night to hear Senator Martin speak, and that he returned shortly after 12 o'clock.

He took issue with Justice John, when the latter said that "You were drunk, sir." Two officers were called upon, and both said that Kilmartin was drunk.

The evidence did not warrant a conviction for the cutting, and the fine of $10 was imposed.

VICTIM OF FORTUNE-TELLER'S NONSENSE

Relying upon the word of a fortune-teller, Mrs. M. J. Hall swore out a warrant against Mr. Wise E. Daber, a young man of the city, charging that he stole $16 belonging to her. The case was before Justice John Crutchfield in Police Court yesterday morning, and was dismissed, there being no evidence other than the statement of Mrs. Hall that a person who tells the past, present and the future, had told her to "suspicion two ladies and a light complexioned man" of having her money.

"I lost the money more than a week ago," said Mrs. Hall to the court, "and I worried about it very much. Then I went to a fortune-teller, and she told me that I suspected two ladies and a light complexioned man. Mr. Baber had a room at my home, and when he was away I looked over his room and found $16. The bills had pin holes in them where I had pinned them to my bodice. The fortune-teller told me that the man had the money, and that he also had a bunch of keys.
